

HUSH

Jane Siberry

The spellbinding Jane Siberry pursues a new musical direction on Hush, her first new studio release since 1996. This time out, Siberry delivers eloquent, stripped-down interpretations of traditional American spirituals, plus traditional songs from Ireland, Scotland, and elsewhere. Using vocal layering accompanied by minimalist keyboard and percussion, she creates vibrant, introspective renditions of such standards as "Jacob's Ladder," "Ol' Man River," "False, False Fly," and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

Applying her trademark angelic vocal work to these timeless classics, Siberry manages to embellish songs vocally without sacrificing their integrity. Even when branching out into her ethereal harmonies, Siberry never leaves the stem of sentiment that has made each song an emblem of its time and place. The result of this simultaneous branching out and pulling back is an exquisite, soulful, authentic, and personal album that will appeal to longtime fans and new listeners alike.

Jane Siberry

... Often acclaimed for her boundary-bending musical prowess, Jane Siberry has recorded more than a dozen albums, each one traversing new musical ground—from her folk-oriented first album Jane Siberry to the jazzy Maria. Her eclectic musical genius and angelic vocals have graced collaborations with such artists as Peter Gabriel, Indigo Girls, Brian Eno, k.d. lang, and Joe Jackson. Siberry has also launched her own record label—Sheeba—and released five albums, written two books, and contributed numerous songs to film soundtracks, including The Crow and Wim Wenders' Until The End Of The World and Faraway, So Close!

"A Siberry performance is warm, indulgent, and arty as all get out."
